Life, Love, Grief . . . and You A Conference for Professionals and Laypersons

October 1, 2010 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Ko`olau Ballrooms and Conference Center
45-550 Kionaole Road, Kaneohe, Hawaii

Aloha and welcome to Life, Love, Grief... and You: A Conference for Professionals and Laypersons. This first conference, presented by St. Francis Hospice, is specially designed for healthcare professionals, social workers, counselors, and laypersons who want to be a caring presence for those who grieve and to learn how to assist them in finding comfort after the loss of a loved one. Trained practitioners will help you increase your personal level of awareness and build skills to establish rapport with those who grieve. Each participant will have an opportunity to interact with grief counselors and other professionals in the field.

We encourage you to register early and take advantage of the Early Bird registration fee.

Grief professionals and laypersons participating in this conference will:

- Explore and connect with their own grieving process
- Learn ways to be a compassionate presence for grievors while practicing good self-care
- Gain skills in establishing rapport and fostering resilience with grievors
- Explore an approach to help grievors find new meaning in the death of a loved one
- Create a personal plan for dealing with situations of grief which identifies available resources

Invited Faculty

Michiyo Ando, R.N., Ph.D., is on the faculty of the School of Nursing at St. Mary's College in Kurume, Japan. Along with others, she has developed a short-term life review therapy for alleviating psycho-existential suffering in terminally ill cancer patients.

Jean Shinoda Bolen, M.D., is a psychiatrist, Jungian analyst, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at the University of California, San Francisco, and author of books including "The Tao of Psychology" and "Crones Don't Whine."

Joel Levey, Ph.D., and Michelle Levey, M.A. are faculty at the University of Minnesota Medical School's Center for Spirituality & Health, authors, and known for their compassionate work with end-of-life issues. They also steward the Kohala Sanctuary on the Big Island of Hawaii.

St. Francis Hospice Mission

The mission of St. Francis Hospice is to be an advocate for the needs of the terminally ill. The mission is supported by the Hospice staff, who are motivated to be peacemakers, witnessing to the gospel through our concern for quality of life and through the recognition that death is a natural part of life. When death becomes inevitable, Hospice will neither seek to hasten nor postpone it. Beyond providing relief of physical and emotional pain, patients and families are afforded spiritual resources of their own choosing, being ever respectful of their choice. St. Francis Bereavement Services provide emotional and psychological support for those who have lost a loved one.
